

Brittany and Eric

San Diego Museum of Art
October 29, 2011

A night at the Los Angeles Opera ended with a fountain-front proposal outside for Brittany Krasner from her future groom, Eric Welsh. Their appreciation of art was interwoven throughout all of their wedding details down at the San Diego Museum of Art in Balboa Park. The couple wanted to bring back the timeless style of weddings with black tie attire, a live band, and champagne served in antique style glassware. Honoring both the bride's Jewish background and the groom's Catholic upbringing, this wedding stuck to no trends of today as it illuminated classic and elegant wedding tradition.

Brittany's Advice:

"Remember that your wedding day is a very important and happy day for your family and loved ones as well. Balancing others' needs with your own will make for a less stressful planning process and a more enriching wedding day."

Ingredients

Ceremony and Reception Venue: San Diego Museum of Art - Coordinator: Dreamfly Inc. - Officiant: Rabbi Ben LeVine and Ft. Mike Ralsosak - Photography: Roberto Valenzuela Photography - Video: Side by Side Video - Florist: Flowers by Erin - Linen: Platinum Party Rentals - Entertainment: NRG Music and Productions - Catering: Giuseppe's Wedding Cafe - Seem's Own Invitations/Balloonery - Wedding Paper Divas/Documents by Design - Hair: A Robert Crossman Salon - Makeup: Lovestruck Makeup Artistry - Dress: Blue by Enzoang - Men's Room: Prier Tux Shop - Honeymoon: Budapest, Hungary - Salzburg, Austria - Vienna, Austria - Prague, Czech Republic